AN IDEAL WINE TONIC

A Combination of Choice Wine, Extract of Meat and Extract of Malt.

THE WINE OF LIFE.

"I gave a glass of Wincarnis to a poor woman who the doctor said was dying, but it revived her and all say 'Saved Her Life'." (Mrs. S. A. SCOTT, Chilton Foliot, Hungerford, March 30th, 1909.)

Wincarnis

The Great Restorative

Refreshes and Revives the Tired and Exhausted System, giving Life and Vitality by Nourishing the blood. When run down, despondent, when work seems irksome, take Wincarnis. It will invigorate and tone up the jaded body, brace up the nerves, create strength and stimulate checking deterioration and bringing every organ to a natural state of health and efficiency. If weak and ailing, or out of touch with health, you cannot afford to pass by our Offer of Help. Test Wincarnis now—day—it will be a revelation of the good Wincarnis can do.

Recommended by a Hospital Nurse.—My sister, a hospital nurse, sent for a bottle of Wincarnis. After which she bought several bottles, and thought such a lot of it that she recommended it to me, and I can assure you that I was surprised at its effect. I am engaged in the staff of one of our leading morning papers (night work), and while suffering from a very bad attack of nerves, I found your tonic simply marvellous, and others to whom I have recommended it have said the same. I also give it for a few outdoor sports, and should my nerves go a bit wrong on the eve of a competition, I do not hesitate to insist, but I am sure you will find it very useful to yourself. I have seen some of the same in a hospital, but I do not think it is Wincarnis. It does all and more than it professes. R. AGATES.

MANY THOUSANDS HAVE WRITTEN SIMILAR LETTERS, MEN AND WOMEN WHO HAVE TAKEN WINCARNIS ON THE ADVICE OF THEIR DOCTOR AND HAVE BEEN BROUGHT BACK TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

For Invalids, for Constitutional Weakness, Anemia, and during convalescence after an illness Wincarnis is incomparable.

M.S., writing from Pucham, says: "It is delicious! The first glass seems to put new life into me." YOU'LL FIND A NEW DELIGHT IN WINCARNIS AS A REFRESHING, SUSTAINING AND INVIGORATING SUMMER BEVERAGE. TRY IT WITH A DASH OF SODA WATER. IT'S DELICIOUS!

FIGHT GETTING STRENUOUS.

TARIFF REFORM CHALLENGED.

MR. ASQUITH ASKS QUESTIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, speaking at Bradford, criticised the speech which Mr. Balfour made at York.

Mr. Asquith said: "The orator has spoken. Neither Delphi nor Dodona in the palmiest days of sacerdotal ambiguity ever gave forth a more uncertain sound. Mr. Balfour states that he would much prefer a tax on the luxuries of the rich. 'What luxuries?' he is going to ask the duties on tea and sugar, as Mr. Chamberlain promised? If so, I don't envy the Chancellor of the Exchequer, who has to meet the cost of pensions, the navy, and the ever-increasing demands of social reform, out of the odds and ends which he is able to accumulate under the previous system of taxing imported luxuries."

"Even if the necessary revenue were secured under such a system how would the tariff end unemployment? After Mr. Balfour's speech at York, the Opposition is definitely committed to a moderate duty upon food."

Mr. Balfour has the courage to predict that his scheme will diminish rather than increase the price of food on the ground that it will bring vast untapped areas of fertile waste lands within the Empire into cultivation. But how long will this take? What are we going to do in the meantime? It is the duty of the Government to provide the whole world to draw upon. The vicissitudes of climates and crops may cause a breakdown at any time in quarters usually to be depended upon. And in such cases we want to be able to correct the shortage in one source by drawing upon another."

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S APPEAL.

"THROWING THE TRADITIONS OF THE RACE."

FREE TRADE NOT FAIR COMPETITION.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has issued a stirring appeal to the electors, largely consisting of extracts from his tariff reform campaign speeches. It is desirable that we should have the whole world to draw upon. The vicissitudes of climates and crops may cause a breakdown at any time in quarters usually to be depended upon. And in such cases we want to be able to correct the shortage in one source by drawing upon another."

"What is called free trade is not fair competition. It is desirable that we should have the whole world to draw upon. The vicissitudes of climates and crops may cause a breakdown at any time in quarters usually to be depended upon. And in such cases we want to be able to correct the shortage in one source by drawing upon another."

CLERGYMEN CONFUSED.

DON'T KNOW WHO TO VOTE FOR.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

There is an active movement in progress between leading non-conformist ministers showing their difficulty as regards voting for either side at the elections.

Several ministers write that they are utterly perplexed at the Government's neglect to meet the demands of the non-conformist churches. They are strongly opposed to Home Rule for Ireland.

The Rev. J. G. Greenhough, chaplain of the House of Commons, and declares that socialism is the supreme peril to be fought. He also protests against "the degradation of non-conformist sanctuaries by passionate party appeal."

MR. JESSE COLLINGS.

GETS OVATION FROM CROWD.

BLACKBREAD AND HORSE SAUCER.

LONDON, Jan. 13.

Workmen have been frequently warned of the prospect of a blackbread and horse sauce in the event of tariff reform. It is now shown that the King has blackbread in every palace, and on every Royal yacht.

MR. J. CHAMBERLAIN RETURNED.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

The first return has just been announced. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain goes back to the House of Commons unopposed.

BEGINNING TO-DAY.

A TANGLE OF ISSUES.

The general election in Great Britain will begin to-day. The results of the first 60 pollings will be known in London to-night.

When the Imperial Parliament was dissolved last Monday the Liberals had a majority of 60 in the House of Commons. They had come into power in 1906 with a majority of 376. The drop in the majority had certainly not been an unusual one. The majority with which this Government ended is larger than the majority with which any other Government since 1832 had begun. But Parliament could not get its Budget through the House of Lords.

As the parties were when Parliament dissolved, the Unionists would have to gain 170 seats and lose none before they could command a majority. The Liberal, Labour, and Nationalist parties which are supporting the present Liberal Government would have to lose 170 seats and gain none before they could command a majority.

AMERICA AND GERMANY.

BITTER STRUGGLE PREDICTED.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

The New York "Daily Telegraph" reports that there are no present indications of a renewal of the Reciprocity Agreement between the United States and Germany.

"If," the correspondent adds, "the agreement lapses on February 7, there will be a bitter struggle, involving £100,000,000 sterling worth of trade between the two countries."

"The chief obstacle to the renewal of the agreement is raised by Germany declining to relax the prohibition which it has placed on American cattle."

CANADIAN MEAT.

BIG EXPORT SCHEME.

According to the "Standard," a strong committee of stock-raisers at Alberta, in the north-western territory of Canada, has addressed a letter to the Canadian Minister for Agriculture in favour of the export of chilled meat, and packing-houses throughout the western portion of the Dominion.

The committee urges the establishment of cold storage depots at Montreal, and an open winter port, with a view to placing the Canadian meat export trade on a position equal to that of Australia and New Zealand.
